Welcome to Thailand

Or should we say, welcome to Paradise. Thailand is blessed with some of the world's most enviable beaches and a myriad of off shore islands ensuring your holiday will be filled with watersports, hammocks and sunset strolls along the water's edge. Some areas are super-vibey while others offer a more serene experience.

Thailand brags of many festivals throughout the year; one of the most famous being the Songkran Festival in mid-April which washes away all the bad spirits and celebrates the traditional Thai New Year. Basically, Songkran is all about getting wet so be prepared to be splashed with ice water!

There are a few rules you need to remember when visiting Thailand. It is important to show respect for the Thai Royal Family therefore revealing attire is not allowed in religious shrines. Do not climb over or sit on Buddha monuments. Do not touch or give anything directly to a Buddhist monk if you are a woman. Thais greet each other by pressing their palms together called 'wai'. It is rude to touch people on their head or point your feet at people or an object.

Thailand's tropical climate has three main seasons: Hot: March to June, Rainy: July to October, Cool: November to February with average temperatures range from 20°C to 35°C. The wet season in the Andaman Sea (West Coast/Phuket and surrounds) is from approximately May to October. The monsoon rains are generally short and heavy, clearing quickly and days of constant rain are rare.

A guide to the most popular tourist hot spots

Phuket: Phuket is the largest island in Thailand and is undeniably the country's most popular beach destination. With a vibrant nightlife, bustling market stalls, a family atmosphere or romantic seclusion, this island paradise offers a vast selection of hotels to choose from and the beaches supply every kind of vibe! Head to Patong Beach if you feel like a party or being active; whilst Kata and Karon Beaches are great for families and couples. The range of activities available is fantastic; canoeing, hiking, white water rafting, scooter hire and best of all – diving and snorkelling.

Krabi: Sit back, relax and enjoy the ride! Krabi's sheer limestone cliffs will welcome you to where over 130 islands rise majestically from the sea, and secluded beaches are accessible only by colourfully adorned long-tail boats. Krabi is about getting out and exploring nature. Sea caves, exotic marine life, rock climbing, beautiful National Parks, hot spring waterfalls and the spectacular turquoise waters of the Emerald Pool and Tiger Cave – a cliff monastery in a jungle valley.

Phi Phi: Nature at its best. Towering limestone cliffs shelter white, sandy beaches leading to aquamarine bays filled with marine life; perfect for diving and snorkelling. There are no roads on Phi Phi so once you settle into your resort your only mode of transport is a long-tail boat (and some haggling with a local for the right price). Make sure that you won't need an ATM as there are none available.

Khao Lak: A low-key beach area one hour from Phuket by road. Long stretches of beach lie alongside lush jungles. The area has a resort style feel with many large beachfront hotels in a laid back quiet atmosphere with easy access to some of the best diving locations in the world (the Similan and Surin islands). For adventure and nature lovers visit the nearby Elephant Hills in the Khao Sok National Park for a once in a lifetime elephant interaction experience.

Koh Samui: The tropical island setting and laid back ambience makes you feel like you have truly discovered the ideal island escape and this is the reason why it is so popular with honeymooners. Head to Chaweng Beach for the vibe, and try Lamai Beach or Bophut Beaches for a more tranquil experience and to bask in the beauty of nature. Within sight of Koh Samui, you'll find Ang Thong National Marine Park, an archipelago of 42 towering islands with lush jungles, white beaches, hidden coves and waterfalls.

Bangkok: One of Asia's great cities, built on a series of canals, known as the Venice of the East with lots of opportunities to explore. From temples to river cruises, Michelin star restaurants to street food vendors and bar hopping to shopping, Bangkok is truly a city that has a wonderful mix of old and new. Pratunum Market is famous for ready-to wear clothing whilst Siam offers high-end shopping malls, not forgetting the famous Chatuchak weekend market for loads of bargains.

Chiang Mai: Known as the Rose of the North, and the cultural heart of Thailand, this picturesque city is surrounded by beautiful fauna and flora, high mountain ranges and jungles – many of which are home to the hill tribes. For those who appreciate old world cities and culture, food and shopping or even some adrenaline activities like white water rafting, trekking to the hill tribes, and hiking. The Loy Krathong Festival every year in November is where Thais gather around lakes, rivers and canals to pay respect to the goddess of water by releasing beautiful lotus shaped rafts, decorated with candles, incense and flowers onto the water and releasing lanterns into the sky adorned with good luck wishes and prayers.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Thailand was known as Siam until 1939
- Bangkok is typically only called “Bangkok” in English. In Thai, it is often called Krung Thep Maha Nakhon, or just Krung Thep. However, the full name is “Krung Thep Mahanakhon Amon Rattanakosin Mahinthara Ayuthaya Mahadilok Phop Noppharat Ratchathani Burirom Udomratchaniwet Mahasathan Amon Piman Awatan Sathit Sakkathattiya Witsanukam Prasit.”
- Thailand is the world's largest exporter of rice
- Thailand's coastline is 3219 kilometres long

Phuket

Phi Phi

Phi Phi is nature at its best; towering limestone cliffs shelter white, sandy beaches leading to aquamarine bays filled with marine life; perfect for diving and snorkelling or simply taking it easy and letting the stress of modern life slip away. Throw off your shoes, take your cocktail to the beach and watch the sun go down on another perfect day in paradise.

Phi Phi Island is accessible by ferry – which takes one and a half hours from Phuket and two hours from Krabi. You could also treat yourself and select a resort which offers a speedboat service from Phuket.

Feel like Robinson Crusoe as you are collected from the ferry by long-tail boat and taken to one of our selected resorts in the North of the island, a quieter area for that true getaway experience. There are no roads on Phi Phi so once you settle into your resort your only mode of transport is a long-tail boat (and some haggling with a local for the right price).

Zeavola ****

You are invited to relax, recharge and invigorate in total luxury! This sustainable Phi Phi Island resort offers an air of rustic romance and is located on the tranquil white sand of Laem Tong Beach.

Romantic Villas are generously spaced throughout the village garden and the hillside. They offer large outdoor living areas with tropical garden views, charming dressing rooms and exotic outdoor rainfall showers. Enjoy an authentic treatment at the spa, a heavenly hillside sanctuary with tree top views and luxury pampering facilities.

After lazing in tropical bliss for the day, you are bound to get hungry. Tacada on the beachfront specializes in fresh and contemporary Mediterranean cuisine, while Baxil offers authentic local dishes full of flavour. If you can't decide what you are in the mood for, you can order food from both menus no matter which restaurant you are sitting in.

Breathing in pure, clear air and breathing out stress are the only things that need to concern you here, while the attentive and discreet staff members attend to your every need. There is also easy access to nearby paradise coves and beaches where you can experience a great day of snorkelling, swimming or scuba diving among the massive schools of fish. Just wow!
