Welcome to Bali

Bali is so picturesque that you could be fooled into thinking it is an artistic masterpiece. Rice paddies roll down hillsides, volcanoes soar through the clouds, the forests are lush and tropical, the beaches are lapped by the warm waters of the Indian Ocean and in the villages you will notice the quietness and wisdom in elderly people's faces. Over 20,000 temples and palaces coupled together with colourful festivals, music and dance is testimony to the island's rich heritage.

Kuta Beach was first discovered in the 60's and was once a sleepy fishing village and has now transformed into the centre of Bali's nightlife and action. For a holiday where the emphasis is on relaxation, visit Sanur Beach, whilst Nusa Dua caters for the more upmarket taste and is ideal for families and watersport enthusiasts. If beaches aren't your ideal, then visit Ubud, where the culture and lifestyle of the Balinese is waiting to be discovered.

Climbing a volcano, canyoning, downhill cycling or a hike through traditional villages will bring you closer to nature and Balinese Culture. Bali is a shopping paradise; art work, handicrafts, oils and essence, clothes, shoes, furniture and accessories – you name it and you will find it here. Ubud should be on your itinerary – it is indeed very special with its majestic palace in the centre of town. There is surfing for beginners at Kuta, Legian and Seminyak Beaches. For the adrenaline junkie watersport activities such as jet skiing, paragliding and water skiing can be found in Benoa. Whatever your age or interest, you will be sure to find plenty to fill your days.

Getting around is easy. You will find a range of chauffeur driven limousines, self-drive cars, taxis and hotel shuttles. Many taxis are not metered and it is wise to negotiate the fare beforehand. Bemos, or communal buses, are available in smaller villages – simply hail the driver and negotiate the fare which suits you both. Motorcycles can also be hired but road and traffic conditions can be busy and somewhat hazardous in certain areas.

Bali has a tropical climate with temperatures averaging 30°C year round. October to April can bring heavy showers and high humidity, but the days are usually sunny. From May to September the humidity is low and the evenings can be quite cool.

Shorts or revealing clothing are not allowed in temples and places of worship. The head is considered sacred and should never be touched. Hand shaking is common practice but avoid using your left hand for handshakes or giving/receiving anything.

Public displays of affections between men and women are deemed inappropriate. Like anywhere in South East Asia, calmness is admired so 'keep your cool' when bargaining or if things are not going according to plan.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Bali is located in Indonesia which is a predominantly Muslim country. However, the majority of the Balinese practice Hinduism.
- About 80% of Bali's economy is dependent on tourism.
- Nyepi Day, also known as 'day of silence' is a unique celebration during which the buzzing activity of the islands is replaced by sweeping tranquillity, with no work travel or noise.
- Imagine a major commercial building made completely of bamboo. Unbelievable isn't it? Bali offers the awesome opportunity to visit one such building which is actually a chocolate factory.
